

Leadership Through People Skills

February / June / October

“Prior to attending LTPS, I was a dictator who was abrasive, rude, and intimidating to my employees. As a result, production was low and my employees avoided me. The role-playing and small group feedback hit home in a way I never could have imagined. I returned to work and started treating people like humans rather than robots. Now I am a better listener who seeks to understand others’ perspectives. This program was definitely worth the investment as the production of my inspectors went from as low as 3 units a day up to 15 a day. If you want to lead people to accomplish a common goal, then LTPS is a must.”
